“ Best father-in-law ever. Most caring and honest man I will ever know. We loved him very much. Best baby sitter ever. The grandkids and great grandkids were very spoilt by him. He loved them dearly he will be missed greatly.

“ When I was a little girl, I thought going to Uncle Don's gas station was the most incredible thing ever. Back then you didn't get out of your car, someone (Uncle Don) came out washed your windows, pumped your gas, and took your money for you. When we stopped at Uncle Don's station--us kids got to get out and go into his station. I thought it was great and usually it meant we got a pop out of the old pop machine (the kind you had to open the narrow door and pull hard to get the bottle out). One time my mom told me no pop, but Uncle Don said go ahead, and he bought me a pop and let me pull it out of the machine. I just thought that was the best.

My deepest sympathies to the Smith family.

With love, niece Terri Baker
