“ Betty, there's no words that can express at having the loss of Bill. Bill was a very thoughtful and wonderful person. We will never forget the annual trips to another state or place. We viewed many cowboy movies, any if we had viewed it five times. I will treasure the cowboy arts Bill painted and bestow to me. Betty and family, please my sincere condolences.

“ We were deeply saddened when we heard the news of Bill's death this week. We are sending you our sincerest condolences and know that you will be in our thoughts and hearts. Bill had a generous nature, whether it was as a machinist, sharing his knowledge and enabling others to grow, his painting, and even the smallest of things, like a secret jerky recipe, which he shared with me, instructed me how to make it and shared a large portion of the finished jerky. I truly enjoyed the time spent with Bill. May the love of family and friends sustain you in these difficult days.

“ We are saddened to learn of Bill's passing. He was artistic and talented, sharing his knowledge with others, allowing them to become successful and learn new skills. Though the memories I have may not be great in number, those memories are however, replete of a man that was admired and respected. Our thoughts and hearts go out to the Still family.

“ My deepest sympathies to the entire Still clan. My memories of Bill are filled with laughs and warmness. He painted me two paintings which I will continue to cherish. My last endearing memory of the type person he was: he took myself and my son all over creation on a freezing day to find the one open trout pond so my son could catch some fish...such a selfless act that defined him as a man....he will be missed.
