“ My father was such a good man always there if we were ever in need. He kept his family very close to his heart. He was very selective with his friends those whom he choose to be around he was very loyal and kind to he wouldn't let his friends or family be alone in-time of need and would do anything within his power and means to help those in his tight-knit group and this was reciprocated. Dad had a long battle with his medical issues but he never laid down he fought for everyday not so much for himself but for us. He may have flown under most peoples radar with his level-headed moderate mannerism along with his knowledge and intelligence he was independently self sufficient requiring very little from others in his life other than looking forward to visits with his sons and daughter and hanging with his loyal four legged side kicks on the pouch enjoying the peaceful country living on his waterfront property. I think about you daily and I hope there's never a day without reminiscence of our history together and the life experiences and journeys we shared and I hope you will have those memories of us kicking around in your head as well. I miss you so so very much Dad and I'm sorry things didn't go as planned after retirement you deserved more time enjoying the golden years. We'll always have you in our hearts and those memories in our minds until we see each other Love your Son Jeremiah William Jones “Worm”❤️ FYI you'll always be remembered and loved by all whom knew and loved you and I'll make sure those few he didn't forget you as well
