“ Victoria had the caring most loving, giving heart of anyone I ever knew and her love for others was unconditional. She gave me the most priceless gift anyone could ever give me my little Coco Rose. I had my dearest companion for 17 years a little pom before I lost her and I had an empty place in my heart ever since then and Victoria knew that and all she wanted was to fill that emptiness in my heart and she never gave up. She went as far as one day buying me a little puppy Pomeranian but it just wasn't in my heart I could not get attached and thankfully the lady refunded her money and took the puppy back, at that time Victoria thought oh no she will never accept another little girl dog but then one day she comes home and said

'Becky I need to talk to you there is this little toy poodle that is meant for you I just know it in my heart, but I don't know if it is your heart to accept her would you try? I said well sis I have to meet her first I will know if we are meant to be together so a couple days later she comes walking in the door with this raggly little toy of something you could'nt even see her little face her hair was so long and straggly and I thought to myself sis what in the world have you brought home to me but then she curled up in my arms and that was it she stole my heart completely and Victoria just starting crying and said I knew it I knew I was right she would fill that emptiness in your heart. We took her to the groomer and the vet next day and once I could see her little face and those little eyes look at me that was it and we have the best friends every since then. I told sis over and over that you could give me all the money in the world and it would not be enough because you have given me the most precious gift in the world my little Coco Rose and every time I would tell her that tears would could come to her eyes and she said "Becky your heart is full again isn't it and I would say yes sissy all because of you, That was sissy's life always thinking of others. I love you sissy and miss you so much but you are with Rembrandt and Coco Rose and I always and forever and my heart will always be full because of you sissy.
